What is an exempt pesticide?

Antimicrobial pesticides (disinfectants and sanitizers), self-contained baits, traps, gels or pastes used indoors as crack-and-crevice treatments, and pesticides exempt from registration by U.S. EPA are exempt from all Healthy Schools Act requirements except annual training for staff who apply them.

When completed, this template meets the Healthy Schools Act requirement for an integrated pest management (IPM) plan.
An IPM plan is required if a school district uses pesticides<sup>1</sup>.

It is the goal of San Lucas School to implement IPM by focusing on long-term prevention or suppression of pests through accurate pest identification, by frequent monitoring for pest presence, by applying appropriate action levels, and by making the habitat less conducive to pests using sanitation and mechanical and physical controls. Pesticides that are effective will be used in a manner that minimizes risks to people, property, and the environment, and only after other options have been shown ineffective.

Our pest management objectives are to: (Example: Focus on long-term pest prevention)

1. To use glue strips to monitor pest activity and population count.
2. Spray only when population of pest becomes a potential problem or hazard.
3. Remove any food substances and keep areas clean to prevent pests from congregating in facilities and grounds.
4. Use earth friendly measures for vegetation control when possible and only use chemicals as a last resort.

In addition to the IPM Coordinator, other individuals who are involved in purchasing, making IPM decisions, applying pesticides, and complying with the Healthy Schools Act requirements, include:

Chemical pest management

If non-chemical methods are ineffective, the school district will consider pesticides only after careful monitoring indicates that they are needed according to pre-established action levels and will use pesticides that pose the least possible hazard and are effective in a manner that minimizes risks to people, property and the environment.
